LB 415

SENATOR JOHNSON: Senator DeCamp, the amendments and the bill speak to life insurance policies, sickness and accident policies and credit life insurance policies. They do not speak to casualty policies or homeowner policies. Is there some reason for that exception?

SENATOR DeCAMP: The bill was brought to us by Senator Brennan. He may have an answer on that. It is the model act and we are using the same language. I might add on the question of Senator Reutzel raised that the bills that he brought in previous years were completely different. They just said policies shall be readable but they didn't have complete standards. Senator Brennan presented this to us and the committee endorsed it and introduced it.

SENATOR JOHNSON: Senator Brennan, could you respond to this question then? Is there some reason why the bill and the amendments do not address casualty insurance or property insurance or homeowners insurance but only deal with life, health, sickness and credit insurance?

SENATOR BRENNAN: I know of no reason.

SENATOR JOHNSON: Would you have any problem if it was so amended?

SENATOR BRENNAN: If he didn't kill the bill.
